Collingwood Hospital Foundation Hopes To Reach MRI Goal with Annual Tree of Life Campaign.

Collingwood Hospital Foundation has launched their annual Tree of Life with a fresh new campaign to raise funds for a new MRI Machine for the Collingwood G&M Hospital. Not having immediate access to this equipment prevents the CGMH team from making timely diagnoses and providing adequate care, especially in emergency cases. The Foundation hopes to inspire the community to help reach their goal of $5million.

"Access to this critical piece of diagnostic equipment here in South Georgian Bay will transform our local health system by providing better outcomes and ultimately, saving lives." says Dr Mark Bonta, Internal Medicine Physician at Collingwood G&M Hospital.

Each year, over 7,000 people in South Georgian Bay will require MRI services: inpatients and emergency patients, as well as those individuals with health issues such as cancer, orthopaedic issues, stroke, and brain disorders. They are often left with no other option than to travel upwards of 90 km roundtrip to access this important diagnostic service, often navigating long waitlists and losing precious time. Residents face wait times that are 2 to 3 times longer than residents in other areas of the province.

With 90% of equipment and technology for the Collingwood G&M Hospital funded through donations, the Foundation couldn't possibly raise the funds alone. They rely heavily on the support of those around them. "South Georgian Bay is an incredibly generous community," says Alison Smith, Director of Communications, "we appreciate the various ways that people contribute. Big or small, these gifts make an impact on us all."

To bring the best possible Diagnostic Imaging technology to South Georgian Bay, the Foundation must raise $5 million to cover the capital costs for the MRI Machine, which they hope to accomplish, by the end of this year. Please donate today at collingwoodhospital.com

Council Votes to Keep the Name Craigleith Depot

On October 31, 2023 a Public Meeting was held and Council heard from members of the public in attendance and also received written public comments in accordance with the Policy. Twelve (12) of the fifteen (15) public comments received by Council supported the renaming or reversion of the facility to the Craigleith Station.

During the Public Meeting, the CEO of The Blue Mountains Public Library along with staff provided Council with additional information and background regarding the history of the Craigleith Depot and the former use and purpose of the property and facility being a restaurant.

The CEO of The Blue Mountains Public Library outlined that: "Train depots and train stations both locations where trains stop to pick up and drop off passengers, cargo, and equipment". Train depots are primarily used for maintenance, storage of trains, and repair services. They are also known as train yards or rail yards. Train depots can be used to store trains that are not in use, repair and maintain trains, and refuel trains before they embark on a journey. Train depots are typically located outside the city, and they are not open to the public.

Train stations, also known as terminals, are the places where train passengers board and disembark from trains during a journey. Train stations serve as meeting points for trains and passengers, and they are typically located in the city centre or near tourist attractions. Train stations offer various facilities to passengers, including restrooms, waiting areas, ticket counters, and food outlets.

Train stations are open to the public, and they are an essential part of any city's transportation infrastructure". It was also noted that the "Craigleith Station" is the original and legal name of the facility and therefore this renaming could be in fact be a correction and a return to the proper facility name.

MINERVA "JOAN" WELDRICK

January 6, 1940 - November 6, 2023

With heavy hearts Joan's family announces her passing on November 6th, 2023 at Errinrung Long Term Care Home, with her daughter by her side. Born on January 6th 1940, Joan (the Ravenna girl) was the only child of Minerva

Sadly, Mitchell predeceased her in 2015. Joan left Ravenna soon after this, and her beloved birds and dogs, and moved into the Errinrung Residence. She made many new friends in her new home and the staff treated her like family.

Joan requested cremation and once this has been completed she will return to the 8th line for one last winter with Michelle and John, until her spring interment with a private family graveside service.

As your expression of sympathy, donations to the Errinrung Residents' and Family Council would be appreciated and may be made through the Ferguson Funeral Home, 48 Boucher St. E., Meaford, N4L 1B9 to whom arrangements have been entrusted. www.fergusonfuneralhomes.ca

Minister Calandra Details Next Steps to Reach Ontario's Housing Targets

TORONTO — On Nov 27th, Paul Calandra, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, released the following statement:

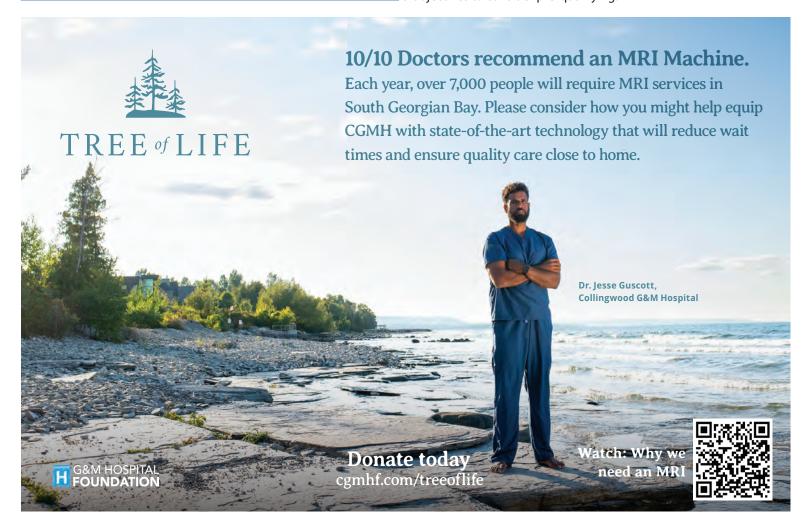

"When it comes to building at least 1.5 million new homes by 2031, we need all hands on deck.

To do so, today we convened more than 75 organizations, including municipal partners, as part of Ontario's first annual housing forum. Together, we're discussing how we can continue to get more shovels in the ground sooner and build more homes faster, especially as we navigate difficult headwinds like high interest rates, labour force gaps and inflationary pressures on the cost of building materials.

The insights gathered at the forum will help inform our next housing supply action plan. This year's forum focused on four main themes: building housing-enabling infrastructure, identifying barriers to missing middle housing, ensuring housing meets the needs of all Ontarians, and leveraging innovations like modular housing.

We continue to work closely with our municipal partners to implement in full or in principle the remaining recommendations from the Housing Affordability Task Force. We have already heard from mayors who agree that we need to be more ambitious in our shared commitment to build the homes the people of our province need, which includes prioritizing density near transit. The forum will build on our partnership, providing a platform for all partners to be a part of the solution.

Additionally, our government is developing a modular housing framework to help meet Ontario's housing demands and also position the province's construction industry to be a leader in innovative housing construction, including modular home manufacturing. We intend to use a ready-to-go Request for Qualification process which is a transparent approach to identify and pre-qualify companies interested in modular housing construction. Doing this will make choosing qualified builders easier and faster. I encourage interested companies who are able to help meet our rapid construction objectives to consider pre-qualifying.

| Christmas Naturally by Alice Otrysko

Pinecones, strands of grapevine, boughs of cedar, and everything else that is natural—all of this is fodder for decorating for the Christmas season with natural elements.

Christmas nowadays is focused on buying, giving, eating, lights on trees in and outside and decorative urns.

I love decorating for Christmas but I put aside everything that is commercially made and decided to use only what is Earth-made.

A wreath can be formed by a handful of evergreens and cones, dry leaves, small twigs and grapevine, all can make a lovely organic wreath that can hang on your outside door.

Garlands made of cedar can be formed into a rope and dress up a door frame. Empty antique containers look beautiful holding a variety of twigs, evergreens and berries.

My garden gives me enough of what I need but I still enjoy foraging in a conservation area and picking up moss from the ground and dead leaves as well as dead twigs. These I use around my house and among them I may put candles (only white) or antique objects.

When these natural decorations have to be thrown out, they become part of nature rather than going to a landfill like plastics and paper.

Just before Christmas entertaining, bowls of mandarins, nuts and small oranges fill my bowls and then eaten once Christmas is over.

In my mother's house when we lived in England, no one went shopping for decorations for Christmas. Everything for the tree and home was natural. My mother would bake and cook for the family days in advance and the decorations were an integral part of how she presented the meal. After Christmas, a thorough cleaning was done and the following year it started all over again collecting as early as the summer. She even dried the mushrooms she gathered and strung them up as garlands.

The photos show simple suggestions and I hope that everyone will try to make this Christmas more earthy and less.

According to the 2021 Canada census, 38.7% of tenants in the Town of Blue Mountains and 35.9% of tenants in Meaford are spending 30% or more on shelter costs.

Georgian Bay Home Share is a no cost service that assists employed young people to find safe, affordable housing in a shared living arrangement with an older person. Assistance with designated chores is offered in lieu of some rent.

"Georgian Bay Home Share helped me find a lovely place to live that I can afford. I have become good friends with the home owner and I help out with various tasks whenever I am needed. While I have helped the homeowner with many little projects and home-upkeeps, it has not been so much that it takes away from my personal time. A great thing about the arrangement is that it feels like a home, as opposed to a generic expensive apartment. If you are a friendly and courteous person who takes pride in "helping out around the house", then I recommend this program!" PS

Community Support Makes for a Banner Year treetrust.ca for Tree Trust TBM

With the help of so many super dedicated volunteers and donors, 2023 has been a very busy and productive year for Tree Trust TBM as we try to preserve and build our tree canopy. Individual donations funded professional tree care for three older but very healthy legacy trees this year, helping to extend their life for many more decades. Exceptional volunteer support meant that we could also provide proper care and look after new tree plantings and demonstrate our tree-community muscle to funding agencies, allowing us to leverage additional funding for planting programs. TBM residents clearly care about trees and are willing to support tree care and tree planting in TBM through donations and their time. A huge thank you to all the donors, volunteers and Town staff for supporting our efforts! To support our work in 2024, donations can be made www.treetrust.ca or you can email Tree Trust TBM directly at tbm@treetrust.ca. Some highlights of our work this year include:

Expert tree care was provided for three beautiful legacy trees including two on Napier Street West and one on Elgin Street East. A tree care public event was hosted by the homeowners of the Elgin Street property – kindly providing lawn chairs, some munchies and all-round cheering support to the arborists. Tobias Effinger from Arboreal Tree Care gave a talk and answered tree questions.

A tree care day was held along the Georgian Trail at Northwinds and Tenth Line to apply mulch and compost to tree saplings that were planted last year. The Town supplied materials and logistical support. So nice to see all the volunteers come out on a sunny but chilly spring day to give these trees what they need in their 2nd year of fledging growth.

Forty trees (all between two and three meters) were planted along the Georgian Trail at Christie Beach Road. These larger trees were planted and watered weekly by Arboreal Tree Care Company. Species included: American Elm (Valley Forge) Swamp White Oak, Bitternut Hickory and Eastern White Cedar – all selected for the local conditions. Funding for these trees was provided by the Georgian Cycle and Ski Trail Association.

Twenty-five larger (3 meter+) trees and 20 shrubs were planted at Nipissing Ridge Park including Autumn Blaze Maples, American Elm (Valley Forge), Burr Oak, White Spruce, White Cedar, Juniper and Dogwood and Viburnum shrubs. A community volunteer mulch and compost day was held in late October. Tree Trust TBM and the Town collaborated to successfully apply for and receive funding from Tree Canada for the trees and the planting labour.

Trees are getting bigger at the Native Tree Nursery. We have planted out six basswood trees into the community from our nursery. We have eight more trees that are ready to go and 47 trees that are further sizing up in the nursery. Thanks to our very dedicated volunteer nursery manager - weeding and watering these trees all summer long! Pending further funding from the Town and or corporate donations in kind, we hope to add more trees and make improvements to the fencing and possibly expand and or move the location.

Efforts to minimize tree loss from the Thornbury West Reconstruction continue. Many Thornbury residents have been upset by the proposed tree removals in the TWR phase 1b area, in particular, along Louisa Street. Tree Trust TBM got engaged more than 2 years ago, conducting an independent assessment of tree health, making presentations and submitting advocacy letters to Council and Staff. As a result, we believe that ten mature trees along Elma Street South will be preserved, when compared to the original plan. Unfortunately, tree preservation challenges are greater along Louisa, due to the deep digging/trenching required for the water and sewer service installations. We continue to advocate for preserving trees at the corner of Louisa and Bruce and Louisa and Elma as these are not subject to water or sewer installations. We are also advocating for special measures to protect on especially large and healthy tree approximately at the mid-point of Louisa Street.

Efforts to update the TBM Tree Preservation By-law continue. Tree Trust TBM has made repeated deputations and submissions related to upgrading the existing (2010) TBM Tree Preservation Bylaw. Updating the By-law is a work in process and hopefully a new revised draft bylaw will work for all concerned.

So, it's been a busy year! In 2024, we will continue to provide professional preservation care for older, legacy trees, to expand our tree canopy and to advocate for tree protection. We already have our eye on two very interesting legacy trees, much in need of professional, life-extending care. Oh! And stay tuned – we will have an exciting announcement coming up in the New Year!

Peril in Paradise: A New Sci-Fi Thriller by local author Zanne Raby

If you are looking for a gripping sci-fi adventure, you might want to check out Peril in Paradise, the latest novel by Zanne Raby, a military veteran and a local author from Thornbury.

Peril in Paradise is the fourth installment in the series "The Chronicles of Deneb", which follows the exploits of Dr. Daniel Radu and his crew, fugitives from a dying Earth who seek a new home among the stars. In this novel, they face an existential threat on the beautiful tropical planet Cepheus-9, where they have settled among an advanced Indigenous population. But their peaceful existence is shattered when the Collective, an organization of powerful planets, discovers their true origins and launches a deadly hunt. Daniel and his crew must use deception and courage to survive, while he also struggles with his own quilt and remorse.

Raby, who retired from the Royal Canadian Air Force after 38 years of service, started writing as a hobby. She draws inspiration from her own experiences across North America, Europe, the Middle East, and the USA and enjoys writing sci-fi because it is a great genre to address topics like climate change, bioengineering, colonization, identity, and morality.

Peril in Paradise can be ordered through Jessica's Book Nook and will be released on December 5, 2023. She is currently working on Spirits of Steel, which will continue the saga of Daniel and his crew.

Neighbourhood
Meeting for Bay Street East
Reconstruction
Sunday Dec. 2nd, 10am
Bayview Park Pavilion
The Town of The Blue

The Town of The Blue Mountains would like to advise the public of an upcoming Neighbourhood Meeting that has been scheduled regarding the Bay Street East Reconstruction project.

This meeting is being held to review the scope of work and gather initial community input. The intention of this meeting is to provide more insight into what is going to be happening with the underground works, and how that will impact conditions above ground. No final decisions will be made at the meeting, but the project team will be able to provide more information about the potential pros and cons of any alternative design elements.

The Town needs to install a secondary sanitary sewer forcemain from the Mill Street Pumping Station to the Thornbury Wastewater Treatment Plant to service growth in the west portion of the municipality. The secondary forcemain will follow Bay Street East between Mill Street and Grey Street, and then proceed south on Grey Street to the treatment plant. The Town's Asset Management Plan indicates that the underground infrastructure on Bay Street is in poor to very poor condition and is approaching the end of its useful life.

Considering that Bay Street will be significantly disturbed from Mill Street to Grey Street for the installation of the secondary forcemain, this provides a good opportunity to reconstruct the entire road to ensure that the watermain, sewers and stormwater systems are updated and adequate for the next 50-75 years.

Christmas Message

Long and lonely nights, but I get up to enjoy another day of greeting you and meeting new challenges. I was greatly blessed to care for Patricia in palliative care in hospital and 7 months at home. I will be eternally grateful for that time and the love and support of my wonderful family and community. You are the best and Meaford Hospital staff you are the finest. What a privilege to have all the family except Emma (not able to make the trip this time) together for the funeral and celebration of life.

How many old men would have the privilege of a fine son-in-law Keith, grandson Nelson and 3 great-grandsons Hunter, Ryker and Kayne join him in the Canada Day Parade?

Enjoyed a hike with 4 grandsons, Lucas, Cole, Nelson and Kahl at my old home farm. Privileged to accompany great-grandson Hunter on 2 school field trips.Kay, Luca, Stephanie and Serenity joined us for a week from the west. Ila is down from Owen Sound for a brief visit

Carol is my stalwart support in the store and Keith is just an outstanding son-in-law.

In Matthew chapter 18 verse 18 is a bold statement. I encourage all to ponder it as that is why in 1968 we drove to the nearest Temple where authority to make sacred covenants was available.

Sealed for time and all eternity. I love bluegrass music and my favourite number is "You don't love God, if you don't love your neighbour."

May we all make Christ and the example he set be the focus of our efforts and celebration this Christmas. Family is meant to be forever.

Respectfully, James

GBPH Sharing Strategies, Resources to Mark Fall Prevention Month

Falls can happen to anyone, at any age, and can significantly affect both the physical and mental health of individuals, potentially leading to life-altering consequences.

In Grey-Bruce, the age-standardized rate of emergency department visits due to falls is the second-highest among Ontario's public health units at about 1.5 times greater than the provincial average.

The local rate of emergency department visits attributed to falls is well above the provincial average in every age category. The agestandardized rate of hospitalizations due to falls in Grey-Bruce is also higher than the Ontario average.

"Falls can have short-term impacts, such as pain, bruising, breaks, strains, and fractures, as well as devastating and long-lasting consequences, particularly for older adults. This can include chronic pain, reduced mobility, and a loss of confidence or fear of falling again - all of which can affect a person's quality and enjoyment of life," says Jason Weppler, at Grey Bruce Public Health.

"While falls are the leading cause of unintentional injuries in Grey-Bruce, the good news is that most falls can be avoided," Weppler says. The following are some key strategies for preventing falls among older adults:

- · Exercising. Regular physical activity can boost balance, strength, and flexibility.
- Getting enough sleep.
- Taking your time. Don't rush when walking or getting up.
- Balancing your body through good nutrition and hydration.
- · Getting your sight and hearing checked regularly.
- Reviewing medications regularly with your pharmacist or primary care provider and discussing any potential side effects that may cause dizziness or impact balance.
- · Wearing well-fitting, sturdy shoes.
- Consider using a cane or other mobility device if needed.

Strategies for preventing falls in the home include: ensuring hallways, stairs, and walkways, as well as bedrooms and bathrooms have proper lighting; keeping stairs free of clutter and other potential hazards; installing handrails along interior and exterior stairs and safety grab bars in the bathroom; checking the home for slipping and tripping hazards; and using non-slip mats or rugs.

Parachute Canada also has multiple resources related to fall prevention among older adults and fall prevention among children.

Grandmothers Rising to New Possibilities

The Grandmothers to Grandmothers Campaign has played a very significant part of the 20 year history of the Stephen Lewis Foundation.

There are several chapters Grandmothers (and others) in Canada and world wide. These chapters are supporting grandmothers in sub Saharan Africa who are raising orphaned grandchildren and others because of the HIV/ AIDS endemic. Funds and resources go directly to community-led organizations and empower women and young girls, grandmothers, orphaned and vulnerable children, LGBTIQ communities and people living with HIV.

The funds raised help to provide food, shelter, medicines, health care and education. This continued support has given African grandmothers the confidence to advocate for their needs with their own policy makers. This has inspired their phrase" Nothing for us without us".

The International Grandmothers Gathering (IGG) took place from October 24 to 27 in Winnipeg, MB and simultaneously in several African countries. The in-person gathering in Canada took place in the iconic Canadian Museum of Human Rights with online participation across Canada and Africa.

The IGG began with an outdoor solidarity march that garnered television coverage. There were presentations and activities over 4 days. These reflected on the global, local and personal impact of the Grandmothers to Grandmothers Campaign. There were about 150 inperson participants which included African grandmothers as well as those who were able to connect virtually from other countries.

The 3 local Grey Grannies who travelled to Winnipeg had the opportunity to learn from others and be inspired anew by the work of their African counterparts who are activists and returned to the local group with fresh ideas and new connections. The time spent at the IGG provided a chance to reflect, rejuvenate and renew. "We will not rest until they (the Africa Grandmothers) can rest".

Ontario Boosting Its Electricity Grid with Hydrogen

Hydrogen is a chemical element; it has symbol H and atomic number 1. It is the lightest element and, at standard conditions, is a gas of diatomic molecules with the formula H_2 . It is colorless, odorless, tasteless, non-toxic, and highly combustible

HALTON HILLS – The Ontario government is investing $5.9 million in nine new projects that will integrate hydrogen into the province's electricity grid. This funding is through the Hydrogen Innovation Fund which supports projects that pave the way for the production of reliable, affordable and clean electricity from hydrogen to help power the province's growth.

"Our government is building new electricity generation and storage to power the next major international investment, the new homes we are building and industries as they grow and electrify," said Todd Smith, Minister of Energy. "Natural gas currently performs a critical role keeping the lights on during periods of peak demand, and we are investing now in new technologies like hydrogen that could help meet this demand going forward."

As part of this funding, Atura Power is receiving $4.1 million to blend hydrogen with natural gas to produce electricity at Halton Hills Generating Station (HHGS) making it the largest electricity-based, grid-connected, low-carbon hydrogen blending project in Canada's history. The Niagara Hydrogen Centre will utilize excess water that would otherwise have been spilled over Niagara Falls to create clean electricity that will be used to produce clean hydrogen for the project.

The eight other projects receiving funding include:

Capital Power is receiving $206,300 to study the feasibility of blending hydrogen with natural gas (between 5 per cent to 15 per cent hydrogen) at their existing Brampton, Windsor and Newmarket generation facilities.

Capital Power is also receiving $150,000 to study the feasibility of producing and storing low-carbon hydrogen, produced from wind generation, to fuel a hybrid hydrogen-methane turbine at their Goderich location.

HydroMéga Services in Cochrane is receiving $100,000 to study the feasibility of upgrading an existing 27-megawatt natural gas facility to include renewable generation, low-carbon hydrogen production and storage.

York University is receiving $38,000 to study the feasibility of retrofitting existing gas turbine generators to blend hydrogen with natural gas to generate electricity. York University is also receiving $90,000 to model and analyse the potential of installing low-carbon hydrogen facilities across Ontario, including costs and sizing.

Western University is receiving $498,000 to develop a demonstration site, which will test solar-generated hydrogen and biogas-generated hydrogen to assess the environmental benefits of each.

Volta Energy in Toronto is receiving $491,352 to assess how reversible solid oxide hydrogen cells technology can help provide a pathway for hydrogen integration into the electricity grid.

The Transition Accelerator in Hamilton is receiving $101,205 to research the economic readiness of the Hamilton region to become a hub for hydrogen investment.

"Decarbonizing Ontario's electricity system and economy will require contributions from new and emerging resources," said Lesley Gallinger, President and CEO of the Independent Electricity System Operator (IESO). "The IESO is looking forward to tracking the results of the Hydrogen Innovation Fund projects to determine hydrogen's viability as a grid resource to support reliability, affordability and sustainability."

As part of the province's Low-Carbon Hydrogen Strategy, Ontario established the Hydrogen Innovation Fund in February 2023 which will invest $15 million over the next three years to kickstart and develop opportunities for hydrogen to be integrated into Ontario's clean electricity system, including hydrogen electricity storage.

Human Rights Day 2023

December 10, 2023 marks the 75th Anniversary of one of the world's most pledges: groundbreaking global universal declaration of human rights. This landmark document enshrines the rights that everyone is entitled to as a human being - regardless of race, colour, religion, sex, language, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status.

The declaration was proclaimed by the United Nations General Assembly in Paris on December 10, 1948. In 1946, assistant secretary-general to the United Nations, Henri Laugier, had appointed John Peters Humphrey of New Brunswick as the first director of the UN Division of Human Rights. Professor Humphrey prepared the first draft of what was to become the universal declaration of human rights. The draft was presented to a commission chaired by Eleanor Roosevelt.

Amnesty International (AI) uses the important document as the foundation of its work around the world. Every December, there is a campaign called Write for Rights and cases are highlighted for action. These cases include people from many countries.

The local AI group will be holding letter writing sessions for the public in the L.E. Shore Library Dec. 9 during the afternoon and at Grace United Church after the morning service Dec. 10. Individual school classes in Meaford. Thornbury and Collingwood

2024 Dinner of The Month

The Rotary Clubs of Thornbury-Clarksburg and Meaford have teamed up to offer the 2024 Dinner of the Month Draw! Tickets are only $25 or 5 for $100, and offer the buyer 24 chances to win a $250 or $100 gift card to many of the area's fabulous restaurants. "We are very excited to work together to bring this event to the communities of Thornbury-Clarksburg and Meaford, who have been so supportive of Rotary and our projects over the years," said Dean Rutty, Committee Chair for the Draw. "I think almost everyone enjoys an evening out with friends or family, especially with such high quality dining options in this community."

Ticket sales will begin December 1, in time to make great gifts or stocking stuffers for Christmas. They can be purchased by emailing dinner@tcrotary.ca, or scanning the QR code in the ad or at The Review office, 206 Marsh Street, Clarksburg. "Only 900 tickets are available, so best to act quickly as we expect to sell out," said Dean. There will be two draws per month, one at each Rotary club, beginning in March 2024 and running through August. Draw dates and times posted on tcrotary.ca or meafordrotary.ca.

Proceeds from the draw will help the Rotary clubs to continue to provide support for many community projects in Thornbury-Clarksburg and Meaford, such as Hope Haven and Events for Life, Beaver Valley Community School, Meaford Rotary Thrift Shop and Meaford Rotary House to name just a few.
